

Play Styles:

- The classroom may take liberties in conducting the game. Each classroom has different characteristics that make them unique. Therefore, the teacher should conduct the game in a manner that they best see fit.
- A few ways to conduct the game are suggested: 1) Have the students break into groups and play the game as a class, utilizing a smart board, or other projection device. 2) Split the students into smaller groups and let them play the game independently while monitoring them. *It is important to note that if you split the students into groups, it is beneficial to bring the groups together at the end, and let the students discuss their experience. Each experience can be rich, and the opportunity to share offers the students multiple instances to learn something.

Game Procedure:

*BEFORE BEGINNING CUT OUT MATERIALS AND FOLLOW GAME BOARD CONSTRUCTION SETTINGS.

- 1) There are 16 working hours (points) a day during the farming season.
 - 2) Consult the “Crops and Animals” chart below and choose one item from four out of the five categories.
 - 3) Record the choices on your game sheet under the column “Selection”.
 - 4) Record the hours (points) of your choices under the “Points” column. Do not exceed 16 hours (points).
 - 5) Several factors will affect your score: Market, War, Political, and Environmental. You select a card when you land on its respective tile on the board.
 - 6) The order you move is determined by the highest to lowest value rolled with the single die. If there are two players tied for first, roll until there is a winner.
 - 7) Rolling is done with a single die. After you roll, and land on a tile, select the factor represented by that tile.
 - 8) Add or Subtract points from the category that appears on the card. Also, you may land on certain factors more than once. Follow the card’s instructions and record the additional value(s) beside the present value. Do not add or subtract anything from an empty category, or a category with zero points.
- *If you land on a corner space you do not draw a card.
- 9) Record the gain or loss for each subsequent tile you land on. Record the total for your four years of play. Note: There are no negative values, if you have a negative total or category, it should be represented as zero (0).
 - 10) Use the point scale to determine who wins and who loses.
 - 11) Repeat steps 6-10 if more than one play through is desired.

GAME MATERIALS (CUT OUT):

Printable:

- Game Sheets
 - Each student will need one game sheet that has all 4 years on it.
- Game board (One per group)
- List of Crops and Animals (Included in the Game Sheet)
- Cards (One set per group)

Non-printable:

- Die
- Pencils
- Game pieces (these can be anything)

For construction of board and cutting sheets:

- Scissors
- Glue

Game Sheet:

List of Crops and Animals:

*Points reflect the time required to produce the crop/livestock. Pick one item from four out of the five categories. Do not exceed 16 points, as it is based on a 16-hour work days during a farming season.

How to Assemble Game Board:

- To assemble the game board, print off the entire document.
- Find the four game board pieces.
- Cut off the paper margins on the two left side pieces: The “L,” and upside down “L.”
- Cut off the paper margins on the top of the two bottom board pieces.
- Glue each bottom piece to the corresponding top pieces.
- Now you have a left and right piece.
- Cut off the paper margins on the left side piece.
- Glue the two left board pieces to the two right board pieces.
